

August 19, 2020

Dear Neighbor,

I am writing to update you since we saw many of you in January at the open house. After implementing COVID-19 health and safety measures for our people and customers, I am pleased to report that we have safely maintained operations as an essential business.

As you know, construction on the North Site is progressing and Galestown Road reopened on July 21. You will notice various improvements including new guard rails, pavement and berms. Work on the gates and landscaping, along with site preparation behind the berms, will continue. We anticipate construction will be completed in late 2020 and mining activity to start on the North Site post construction.

As part of a county-wide initiative, Richmond County has recently issued public notice to rezone several properties in the county, including the SOS Timber property which is adjacent to the North Site, northeast of the power lines and north of Galestown Road. Zoning is just one of several county and state approvals required to eventually activate the site. For your reference, we have posted a copy of the County's public notice on our website.

As we shared before, mining activity could begin on the SOS Timber property in a minimum of three to five years from now, only after all the approvals have been received. I want to reiterate that our entire team is committed to working with you and our neighbors to design plans that are mutually responsive to the community, our operations and Richmond County.
